Ward Angus Ranch

Welcome friends to our 16th annual production sale. We are thankful that 2020 is behind us, but even more grateful that we made it out the other side stronger than ever. We cannot thank you enough for your continued support as we move forward.

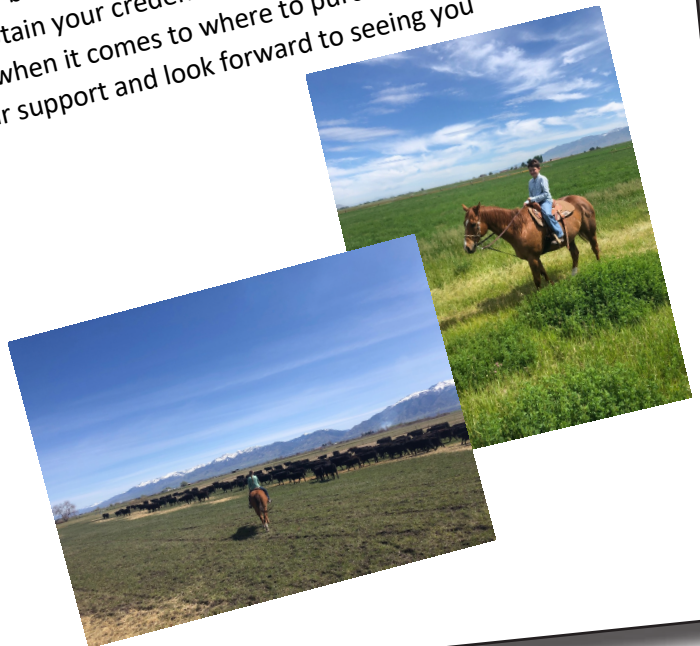

The cattle offered this year are an extremely nice set of individuals. As we continually aim to please our customers, based on your requests and feedback, we have implemented a genomic testing program to help further identify prospects. In doing this, we have been able to better locate the cattle that are best suited to run at higher elevations. Although the entire offering has not been tested, we have identified those prospects and noted their ranking in the footnotes to ensure you can find the best stock to suit your needs.

Limited in their quantity, but high in their quality, is our female offering. They are a sample of some of the best sire groups on our ranch, and we feel will go on to be an asset in any type of program.

This year for the convenience and added safety of our customers, we have enlisted www.wlivestock.com, to obtain your credentials before the sale.

We know you have choices when it comes to where to purchase your livestock, and we thank you for your support and look forward to seeing you March 20, 2021, in Willard, UT.

Sincerely,
Chris, Alana, Kayt & Andon

A sure fire herd builder. Many generations of cow makers stacked up in this pedigree.

Understanding CED:

Calving Ease Direct (CED), is expressed as a difference in percentage of unassisted births, with a higher value indicating greater calving ease in first-calf heifers. It predicts the average difference in ease with which a sire's calves will be born when he is bred to first-calf heifers.
